

iConference 2025

CALL FOR PAPERS

- The iConference 2025 is the 20th annual conference of the international iSchools organization. It is one of the top venues for research in information science and related fields.
- The host will be Indiana University Bloomington (USA)
- It will be the 5th to allow virtual participation in multiple time zones.
- The theme of iConference 2025 is "Living in an AI-gorithmic world".
- All information scholars, researchers, and practitioners are encouraged to submit their research. iSchools affiliation is not required.

Virtual Program

 11-14 March, 2025

 online

- research paper presentations
- poster presentations
- virtual doctoral colloquia, student symposia and early career colloquia
- Spanish & Portuguese track
- Chinese track
- business meetings

All accepted papers are required to be presented online.

On-site Program

 18-22 March, 2025

 Bloomington, Indiana, USA

- research paper presentations
- poster presentations
- community hosted events and social and cultural activities
- workshops & panels
- onsite virtual doctoral colloquia, student symposia and early career colloquia
- business meetings
- project-related events

All authors who present online will also have the opportunity to present onsite.

Living in an AI-gorithmic World

// VIRTUAL PROGRAM MARCH 11-14
// ON-SITE PROGRAM MARCH 18-22

LUDDY SCHOOL OF INFORMATICS, COMPUTING, AND ENGINEERING
INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Topics

With the theme "Living in an AI-gorithmic World," iConference 2025 seeks to explore the implications on collecting, storing, retrieving, using, and distributing information increasingly influenced by algorithmic processes, such as generative artificial intelligence, machine learning, data analytics, and related technologies. We invite submissions on diverse topics related to technological, organizational, and societal issues on information creation, analysis, management including but not limited to:

- ✓ AI & Machine Learning Approaches
- ✓ Behavioral Research
- ✓ Community Informatics
- ✓ Cultural Heritage, Archives & Museums
- ✓ Digital Humanities
- ✓ Digital Information Economy
- ✓ Disinformation & Misinformation
- ✓ Health Informatics
- ✓ Human-AI Collaboration
- ✓ Information & Digital Literacies
- ✓ Information Governance & Ethics
- ✓ Information Science & Data Science
- ✓ Information Retrieval
- ✓ Information Science Education
- ✓ Intellectual Property
- ✓ Bibliometrics & Metadata
- ✓ Knowledge Management
- ✓ Libraries & Users
- ✓ Scholarly Communication
- ✓ Social Media & Digital Networks
- ✓ Open Access & Open Science

For more details visit the iConference Website.

Timeline

- 01 JUL 2024 Submission Portal Opens
- 15 SEP 2024 Submission Deadline for
 - » Full Research Paper
 - » Short Research Paper
 - » Posters (written Proposal)
 - » Spanish & Portuguese Research Paper
- 20 OCT 2024 Submission Deadline for Workshops and Interactive Sessions
 - » Workshops & Panels
 - » Student Symposium
 - » Doctoral Colloquium
 - » Early Career Colloquium
 - » Chinese Research Paper
- MID NOV 2024 Decision Notification Registration Opens
- 08 JAN 2025 Submission Deadline for Accepted Papers (Camera ready version)
- 09 FEB 2025 Submission Deadline for Accepted Posters and Pre-recordings
 - » Graphical Posters
 - Recorded Presentations
- 11-14 MAR 2025 Online Conference
- 18-22 MAR 2025 On-site Conference

Submission Portal

Past Proceedings

Reviews and Research Presentation

- All submissions will undergo double-blind review.
- All accepted papers and posters are required to be presented online. Authors are strongly encouraged to present their papers and posters additionally onsite in Bloomington, Indiana (USA)

Workshops and Other Interactive Sessions

- All interactive events will be conducted in person, in Bloomington, Indiana (USA)
- Proposals may range from a single 90-minute session to half-day.

Colloquia and Symposia

- Student Symposium
Masters and undergraduate students
- Doctoral Colloquium
Ph.D. students
- Early Career Colloquium
Those who have recently earned their Ph.D. or postdocs or assistant professor
- All Colloquia and Symposia will be conducted regionally
- All European/African and Asia-Pacific Colloquia and Symposia will take place only virtually
- American Colloquia and Symposia will be conducted onsite in Bloomington, Indiana (USA). Attendees from other parts of the world may indicate their wish to take part onsite at the submission

Contact Us

admin@ischools-inc.org