The iSchools organization is a growing network of more than 120 Information Schools spanning six continents. Our members share a passion for the power of information to change lives and transform the future, and each brings their unique social and cultural perspectives to the table.

Leadership

iSchools are at the forefront of education and leadership. Our members are widely recognized for creating innovative systems and designing information solutions that benefit individuals, organizations and society. iSchool graduates lead organizations of all types and sizes, and our areas of research and inquiry attract strong support and have profound impacts on societies. Join us!

Collaboration

Global engagement is at the heart of the iSchools. We connect information scholars and researchers worldwide. From informal chats during virtual "cocktail hours" to structured discourse on such challenges as security, privacy and online learning, our diverse membership collaborates in identifying best practices and forming meaningful solutions at regional and global levels.

Resources

The iSchools organization helps maximize the visibility and influence of our members with an abundance of resources and benefits. Our global and regional forums connect members worldwide, supporting research through interactive tools and funding. We provide technical infrastructure for information events. We sponsor global education projects, and mentor faculty and students at all levels.
